CREDENTIALS: Appropriate credentials are required for access to the Wells Fargo Center and should be kept visible at all times. In accordance with NBA regulations, the Sixers will limit the number of season credentials. In order to be considered for a season credential, an individual media member must cover a minimum of 30 Sixers home games, while others will be allotted on a game-by-game basis. A single-game credential allows the same access and privileges as a season pass. In accordance with NBA rules, all season passes must include a photo headshot of the approved individual. Media members wishing to cover a single game must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Public Relations staff at least 24 hours prior to the intended game. Passes are issued on a space-available basis for all single-game requests. First-time requests must be in written form on company letterhead and received by mail, or by fax at 215.339.7615. Credentials will be left at the Press Entrance (located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level) and can be picked up two hours prior to tip-off on game nights.

ENTRANCE: Media members attending a Sixers game at the Wells Fargo Center should enter the building through the Press Entrance, located on the North side of the Main Concourse Level.

PARKING: Parking passes are issued prior to the season to those media members who regularly cover the team. Media members wishing to cover a single game, and require parking, must contact the Philadelphia 76ers Public Relations staff at least 48 hours prior to game day. Media members attending Sixers games should park in Lot F, located between the Wells Fargo Center and the Spectrum, along the 11th Street side.

MEDIA ROOM: The media room is located at the Northeast corner of the Event Floor Level. Appropriate credentials are required for media room access. The media room consists of a dining facility, working stations and complimentary wireless internet access. Food, game notes, media kits and working space are available to the media during the course of an event. Food and beverages are served two hours before tip-off time. Refreshments are available during the game. A nominal fee of $10 is charged for a pre-game meal.

SEATING: Home and visiting television as well as home and visiting radio will be seated in section 112. All other media will be assigned seats on the baseline (section 118) on a space-available basis.

STILL & VIDEO PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photo work space is limited and your cooperation is appreciated. Still and video photographers are limited to the baselines at each end of the court. In accordance with the NBA policy, no hard-back chairs are permitted courtside and all photographers must keep clear of the escape lanes on both sides of the basket stanchions. Rubber lens shades are required for all still photographers who are credentialed to shoot a 76ers game.

LOCKER ROOM ACCESS: The locker rooms are located on the west side (Broad Street) of the Event Level. In accordance with NBA policy, the 76ers locker room will be open 90 minutes prior and close 45 minutes prior to tip-off. Following a ten-minute cooling off period, the locker room will open after the game has been completed. Only credentialed media are allowed in the locker room and no autographs are permitted. All media members are asked to have their passes visible at all times while in the Wells Fargo Center.

GAME NOTES & STATS: Game notes for both teams will be available in the press room two hours prior to tip-off. Play-by-play, quarterly boxes, halftime boxes, final notes and quotes will be delivered to all media locations as quickly as possible.

PRACTICES & SHOOTAROUNDS: Sixers practices and are held at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine (PCOM) located at 4190 City Ave. in Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE (PCOM)

SIXERS PRACTICE FACILITY

For more than a century, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine has trained highly competent, caring physicians, health practitioners and behavioral scientists who practice a "whole person" approach, treating people, not just symptoms. PCOM offers the doctor of osteopathic medicine degree and graduate programs in psychology, physician assistant studies, forensic medicine, organizational development and leadership, and biomedical sciences. Our students learn the importance of health promotion, education and service to the community and, through PCOM's five Healthcare Centers, provide care to the medically underserved populations in inner city and rural locations.

In 1999, Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine opened a state-of-the-art practice facility for the 76ers. The facility features a weight room with custom-sized equipment, an audio-visual room with theater seating, as well as a full size basketball court with two main baskets and four side baskets that are shared by the college and the 76ers. Delaware 87ers

On April 27, 2013, the NBA Development League announced that the Philadelphia 76ers purchased the rights to own and operate the former Utah Flash, which were on hiatus since the end of the 2010-11 NBA D-League season. The team, which will be known as the Delaware 87ers, will be the single-affiliate for the 76ers and will play at the Bob Carpenter Center on the campus of the University of Delaware.

The team name, "87ers" was selected in recognition of Delaware's place in United States history, as it was the first state to ratify the U.S. Constitution on December 7, 1787. The 87ers will also be nicknamed the "Sevens" as a nod to the way the parent club is often referred to as the Sixers.

At the time, the Sixers became just the sixth NBA team with 100-percent ownership of their NBA D-League affiliate, joining the Cleveland Cavaliers (Canton Charge), Golden State Warriors (Santa Cruz Warriors), Los Angeles Lakers (L.A. D-Fenders), Oklahoma City Thunder (Tulsa 66ers) and San Antonio Spurs (Austin Toros).

SAM HINKIE

President of Basketball Operations and General Manager

Sam Hinkie was named President of Basketball Operations and General Manager of the Philadelphia 76ers on May 14, 2013. Hinkie joined the Sixers following eight years with the Houston Rockets, most recently as Executive Vice President of Basketball Operations.

Under Hinkie's direction, the Sixers were aggressive in adding talent to the team's pipeline, beginning on draft night when the team secured the rights to the sixth overall pick. That opening salvo marked just the beginning of a larger overhaul. The entire off-season tally saw the Sixers front office make six trades, draft three new players, net three additional draft picks for the future and sign six free agents.

Via trade, the Sixers brought in the sixth overall pick in 19-year-old Nerlens Noel (the NCAA's leading shot blocker), 20-year-old former first round pick Tony Wroten, and 22-year-old Turkish center Furkan Aldemir. Via the draft, the Sixers acquired 6-6 point guard Michael Carter-Williams with the 11th selection. The Sixers now hold five draft selections in the 2014 NBA Draft, including New Orleans' first round pick and the second round selections of both Houston and Brooklyn.

Hinkie then led the search for the club's 24th head coach, choosing four-time NBA Champion Brett Brown to oversee the program. Lastly, during free agency, five new players—including four rookies—were added and given a chance to compete and improve within the larger Sixers development system.

Hinkie joined the Rockets in 2005 as Special Assistant to the General Manager (then Carroll Dawson), one year prior to the arrival of current Rockets GM Daryl Morey. After a promotion to become the youngest Vice President in the NBA in 2007, Sam was again promoted to Executive Vice President in 2010.

While with the Rockets, Hinkie led the team's considerable analytic efforts, where Sam and his team used data to improve decision making in the NBA Draft, free agency, trade, and game strategy. Additionally, Hinkie provided day-to-day management of basketball operations, managed the Rockets salary cap and scouted prospects in person across the collegiate and professional ranks.

During Hinkie's tenure in Houston, the Rockets emerged as a leading franchise in any sport in the use of analytics, and Sam and his team's efforts have been profiled by The New York Times, Sports Illustrated, ESPN, and in Michael Lewis's New York Times Sunday Magazine cover story on Shane Battier (The No-Stats All-Star). He has presented and lectured at Harvard, Stanford, and Wharton and has been an original contributor to the leading sports analytics conference held annually at MIT since its inception in 2007.

From 2006-07 through 2008-09, the Rockets won more regular season games (160) than in any three-year run in the history of the franchise. In 2007-09, the team won a remarkable 22 straight games, which stands as the fourth-longest winning streak in major U.S. professional sports history. The flexibility built into the team's roster allowed Houston to weather injuries to perennial All-Stars Tracy McGrady and Yao Ming in each of those seasons.

The innovation on display during Hinkie's tenure in Houston stretched into minor league basketball as well, where a first-ever hybrid relationship saw the Rockets front office manage the basketball operations of a minor league team (the Rio Grande Valley Vipers). While developing and evaluating players and coaches and playing an increasingly unique style of basketball, over a four season span from 2009-10 through 2012-13, the Vipers made the finals three times and captured two championships.

Prior to joining the Rockets, Sam advised NFL teams on draft strategies and ways to use statistical analysis to improve decision making. Hinkie also held positions in private equity & venture capital after beginning his career as a strategy consultant at Bain & Company.

Sam serves on the Advisory Board of KIPP, an innovative charter school network focused on disadvantaged children in urban communities. He also serves on the National Advisory Board of Positive Coaching Alliance, a non-profit group that encourages character building through youth sports.

Hinkie graduated summa cum laude from the University of Oklahoma and was named one of the top 60 undergraduate students in the nation by USA Today. He also holds an MBA from Stanford, graduating with highest honors as an Arjay Miller Scholar.

Hinkie resides in suburban Philadelphia with his wife and two sons.

COURTNEY WITTE

Director of Player Personnel

Courtney Witte (pronounced Witty) enters his 16th season with the 76ers basketball operations department and 27th overall in the NBA. After serving as the Sixers director of scouting for two seasons (2001-03), Witte was promoted to his current position, director of player personnel, in September 2003.

As director of player personnel, Witte is involved in all aspects of the team's basketball operations along with draft-night preparation and coordinates the 76ers professional scouting and collegiate player evaluation process.

Witte joined the Sixers prior to the 1998-99 season as a video coordinator and scout after spending 11 seasons with the Indiana Pacers most recently as their advance scout. Witte oversaw the reconstruction of the 76ers state-of-the-art video room that features both nonlinear computerized and linear video-editing systems. He served as an assistant coach/director of scouting for the Sixers, after a two-year stint as an assistant coach/head scout.

Witte played collegiate basketball at Indiana University (1984-86) under Coach Bob Knight, having the distinction of being his first junior college recruit. During his two seasons at Indiana, the Hoosiers made two NCAA tournament appearances, highlighted by a victory over the top-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels in the Final Eight.

Witte is single and resides in Bala Cynwyd.

BRANDON D. WILLIAMS

76ers Basketball Operations
General Manager 87ers

Brandon D. Williams was named General Manager of the Philadelphia 76ers NBA Development League affiliate, the Delaware 87ers, on September 13, 2013.

Williams joins the organization after serving eight seasons in the NBA's League Office, most recently as the NBA's Associate Vice President of Basketball Operations. Prior to that position, Williams served as the Director of Player Development in the NBA's Community and Player Programs department. He worked closely with teams across the league in helping prepare players for the demands of being a professional athlete as well as aiding their eventual transition away from the game to a second career.

Williams is well versed in the challenges a young player faces in his pursuit of making the NBA. A standout player at Davidson, Williams earned All-Southern Conference First Team honors as a senior in 1996. After going undrafted, Williams played both overseas and in the Continental Basketball Association before appearing in his first NBA game as a member of the Golden State Warriors in 1998. The following season, Williams was picked up by the San Antonio Spurs, who went onto win the NBA Championship. All totaled for his career, Williams played internationally in six countries. He also experienced the D-League up close as an Honorable Mention All D-League player for the Huntsville Flight in 2003.

In addition to a Bachelor of Arts degree in Sociology from Davidson, Williams received his Juris Doctorate from Rutgers University School of Law-Newark in 2012. While enrolled at Davidson, Williams interned at the White House for the Domestic Policy Council during President Bill Clinton's first term.

BRETT BROWN

Head Coach

Brett Brown was named head coach of the Sixers on August 14, 2013 after spending the previous 11 seasons as an assistant coach for the San Antonio Spurs under Gregg Popovich. Brown was a member of the Spurs organization for all four of their championship seasons (1999, 2003, 2005 and 2007).

Brown originally joined the Spurs as a member of their basketball operations department in 1998-99 but left after the season to become the head coach of the Sydney Kings of the Australian National Basketball League (NBL). He re-joined the Spurs in July of 2002 as the team's assistant coach/director of player development and was moved to the bench as an assistant coach prior to the 2006-07 season.

A native of Maine, Brown played at South Portland High School for his father Bob Brown, who is a New England Basketball Hall of Famer. The younger Brown went on to attend Boston University where he played under Rick Pitino. Brown was named team MVP his sophomore year and served as team captain his final two seasons, helping the Terriers reach the NCAA Tournament as a senior in 1983. For his career, Brown posted an assist-to-turnover ratio of 2.19 and left ranked fourth in school history in assists (404). In 2013, Brown joined his father as an inductee into the New England Basketball Hall of Fame.

In addition to his time with the Spurs, Brown has a wealth of coaching experience in Australia, where he met and married his wife, Anna. He started as an assistant coach with the Melbourne Tigers under Lindsay Gaze, a member of both the Australian and FIBA Hall of Fame.

Brown was named head coach of the North Melbourne Giants in 1993 and earned NBL Coach of the Year honors in 1994 after leading the Giants to the National Championship. Including his return to the NBL for three seasons with the Sydney Kings in 1999, Brown amassed 149 career coaching victories, sixth-most in league history.

In March of 2009, Brown was named head coach of the Australian National Team. He had previously served as an assistant for eight years, including both the 1996 and 2000 Olympic Games as well as the 1998 World Championships. Brown led Australia to the FIBA Oceania Championship over rival New Zealand in 2011 to secure a bid to the 2012 Olympics.

At the London games in 2012, Brown guided Australia to what many consider one of its best Olympic runs, culminating with a win over eventual bronze medalist Russia before being eliminated by Team USA in the quarterfinals. Overall, Australia compiled a 3-3 mark without the services of injured star Andrew Bogut.

On July 8, 2013, the Philadelphia 76ers ownership group – led by Josh Harris – hired Scott O'Neil, one of the most respected executives in sports business industry, as the team's Chief Executive Officer. In this role, O'Neil will be responsible for overseeing every aspect of the team's business operations and will represent the Sixers as an Alternate Governor for the National Basketball Association.

He has already established a vision to integrate the Sixers into the fabric of the community and is committing the time, effort and resources necessary to engage the fan base and business partners in a way that will include them in team's continued resurgence. It will include the addition of a re-imagined in-game experience, innovative and wide-ranging sponsorship plans, and the addition of talented, experienced executives.

O'Neil has taken the first of many steps in accomplishing those goals with the creation and implementation of "SIXERS STRONG," the team's new wide-ranging community outreach program for the 2013-14 season and beyond, which will exclusively focus the Sixers' charitable efforts toward improving the life trajectory of children throughout the Philadelphia region. All SIXERS STRONG efforts will be driven by at least one of the following six core platforms to positively impact children in the Philadelphia region: Physical, Education, Emotional, Nutritional, Charitable and Environmental.

On August 15, 2013, O'Neil also assumed the role of Chief Executive Officer for the NHL's New Jersey Devils and the Prudential Center, where he will lead the Devils' business operations and work closely with Lou Lamoriello, the Devils' President/General Manager, while also overseeing the Prudential Center and its broad entertainment offerings.

Most recently, O'Neil served as president of Madison Square Garden Sports, where he oversaw the business operations of The Madison Square Garden Company's (MSG) three professional sports teams, the New York Knicks, New York Rangers and New York Liberty, leading some of the most coveted brands in sports. O'Neil was the key architect in several of the largest deals in NBA history, resulting in record-setting revenue in sponsorships, tickets and suites.

O'Neil came to MSG from the NBA, where as senior vice president, he oversaw the league's team marketing and business operations. He advised NBA and WNBA teams on ticket sales and service, sponsorship development, and marketing. He also managed the NBA's Canadian business, Relationship Marketing, and the NBA Development League.

Prior to joining the NBA in May 2001, O'Neil served as President of HoopsTV.com where he oversaw a management team and staff of 60 and orchestrated strategic partnerships with leading companies such as ESPN, Footaction and numerous online partners. During his career, O'Neil also spent five years with the Philadelphia Eagles, where he was appointed the youngest Vice President of Sales in the NFL, and two years with the New Jersey Nets as a Corporate Marketing Manager.

An avid writer, O'Neil has published two cases for the Harvard Business School, "Success Factors in Minor League Baseball" and "Balancing Work and Family" in 1998. He has also written and published a book titled, "Fantasy Land to the Rat Race" released in 2000 and geared towards young executives in the workplace.

PHILADELPHIA 76ERS UNIFORM HISTORY

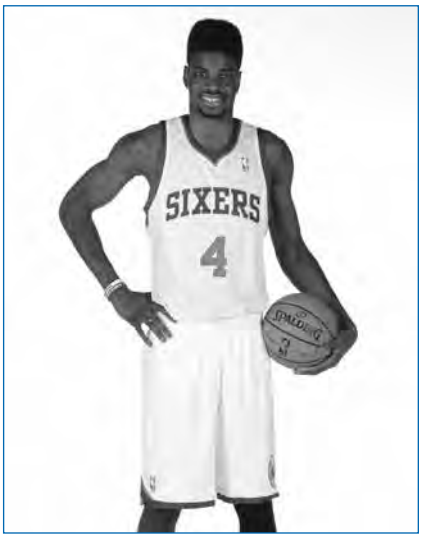
PRESENT: On Sept. 23, 2009 the Sixers unveiled the latest re-design of their uniform which features the team's new primary "76ers basketball" logo with the red, white and blue color scheme. Trimmed in blue and red, the team will wear white uniforms with blue lettering and red numbers at home. On the road, the team will wear red uniforms, trimmed with blue and white, that feature white lettering and numbers. In the summer of 2010, the uniforms underwent some minor revisions, including blue piping added around the neck and shoulders among other aesthetic details. The Sixers will debut an alternate blue uniform in the 2012-13 season opener.

2007 - 2009: Both the Sixers home and road jerseys underwent a bit of a facelift in the summer of 2007. Influenced by the secondary red road uniform, which was introduced the previous season, the home and road designs featured a refined red taping stretching from the jersey to the shorts. The material itself was also completely overhauled, as the new fabric was adidas clima-cool flatback mesh on the front with open-holed metallic stretchair fabrication on the back and in key venting zones through the front of the shoulders.

2007 - 2009: During the 2006-07 season, the 76ers unveiled a new second road uniform with red as the predominant color accented by the team's other official colors of white, blue, black, silver and gold. Produced by adidas, the jerseys featured a new "PHILA" word-mark across the front in a design similar to the team's primary logo, as well as blue and white stripinng around the V-neck. The red shorts are adorned with the Sixers secondary logo above a blue accent on the side of the left leg.

1999 – 2006: Philadelphia added a new second road uniform during the 1999-00 season. The blue jersey sports a stylish new cut that's full of tradition from the great Sixers teams of the 1960's and 1970's. Trimmed in red and black, the jersey featured the "SIXERS" word-mark on the front with white numbers trimmed in red.

1997 – 2007: Prior to the 1997-98 season, the Sixers unveiled a completely new look including the first major logo change since becoming the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1963. In keeping with the traditional red and blue, the logo was "modernized" by adding silver, gold and black. For the first time in franchise history, the Sixers wore black uniforms on the road. Trimmed in red and gold, the jersey that features the word "SIXERS" on the front with white numbers trimmed in red on the back. At home, a white jersey features black numbers trimmed in red.



Present Home Uniform

1994 – 97: This uniform was actually a throwback to the classic Sixers look. Designed by Lucy Loeb, the front featured "SIXERS" in a more ornate block lettering. This garb was white with red and blue trim at home and red with white and blue trim on the road.

1991 – 94: The Sixers uniform was redesigned by Champion Products and was a departure from the classic Sixers uniform. The design featured multicolored stars against a royal blue field that curved up from shorts to the jersey. The background of the away uniform remained red.

1978 – 91: The NBA begins to regulate uniform changes more closely. A rule is installed by the league requiring teams to use an exclusive outfitter and alert the NBA one year in advance of a design change. This uniform becomes the Sixers' hallmark, with the numeral surrounded by stars on the shorts. The road color returned to red. The uniforms were manufactured first by Wilson, then by Sand Knit. The 76ers played more games in this uniform (1,066) than any other in the history of the franchise.

1977 – 78: The lettering on the jersey was readjusted, with home uniforms lettered in blue and outlined in white and red, while away uniforms were royal blue with white lettering in red trim.

1976-77: Another one-shot uniform surfaced, this time with a theme. In honor of the Bicentennial, the team turned to the cursive lettering and trim numerals of the 1970-71 season. The new uniforms were designed by Pat Williams, Al Domenico, Billy Cunningham and Sonder Levitt Advertising.

1971-76: SonderLevitt Advertising designed a uniform that had a much longer lifespan than its predecessor. With the new art deco-like lettering, the uniforms retained the star-inset blue side stripe, a graphic element that remained a feature through the 70's. Away uniforms were royal blue with white side stripes and stars.

1970-71: With its red-in-blue and cursive lettering, the Sixers next official home uniform (the old red garb was retained for away games), did not please Sixers suppliers. Midseason trades meant impossible turnaround times for these custom-sewn, flowing script uniforms. In the middle of the season a switch is made and "Seventy Sixers", in script, replaces "PHILA" on the front of the uniform.

1966-70: The Sixers went to the straightforward look during their first championship run. Simple block letters with the traditional "PHILA" on the front replaced the star-spangled banner look. Road uniforms became red with blue lettering and white trim.

1965-66: A two-tone uniform with a high waistband and long, baggy trunks was introduced. The players considered it flashy and uncomfortable to play in and it was abandoned after one season.

1963-65: The Sixers opened their run in Philadelphia with a Betsy Ross-inspired uniform (below). Adorned with a circle of stars on both the shorts and the back of the jersey surrounding the player's number, the stars quickly became a hallmark of the Sixers uniforms. The road uniform was dark blue with red lettering and numbers. Midway through the '64-65 season the style of the letters and numbers was changed.

 Early draft records are incomplete, so until 1956 players are listed alphabetically.*

Beginning in 1957, the draft is recorded round-by-round. To enable teams to take advantage of the regional popularity of college stars, they were given the option of forfeiting their first-round pick and instead selecting, before the start of the draft, a player from the franchise's immediate georgraphical area. These "territorial picks," as they were know, are not factored in to the overall selection count of the draft. The territorial option was in effect through 1965.

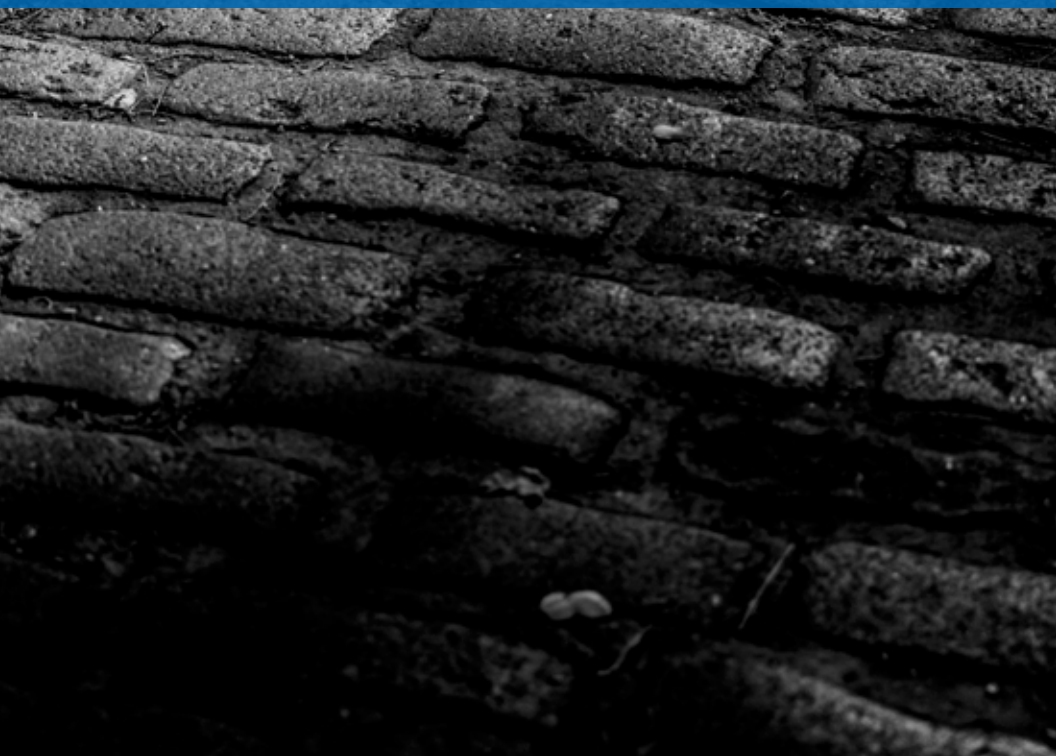
ALL-TIME ROSTER



Please note the following:

* Denotes that a player played for more than one team during that particular season and the team-by-team breakdown was not available. Each respective stat line is reflective of the entire season's statistics, which also affects the player's total stat lines.

(n) Denotes years played in the NBL with Syracuse, before the Nationals joined the NBA in 1949-50. NBL statistics are factored in to individual NBA totals, but do not affect team statistics/records.
